About Publisher\Author

Dr. Erica Handon has been working as a Licensed Professional Counselor (LPC) with children (age 4-12) who have behavioral and emotional issues since 2008.

She has written several professional articles within the field of counseling.

Her educational background in counselor education and supervision has allowed her to gain unique expertise in helping children ages 4-12.

She has currently written and published five children's books. Her goal as a writer is to provide therapeutic tools and strategies to help children, parents, and educators.

Each book has tools and strategies to improve communication skills, identify and express emotions, and learn emotional awareness. She believes people possess the power to accomplish desired goals or outcomes if given adequate support and tools for change.
